

From the Archives

Workers clean up leftover wood forms and supports, called falsework, from bridge construction on the State Route 57/60 interchange in the Diamond Bar section of Los Angeles. The photo was taken in December 1970.